A Human Execution.

AUBURN, N. Y., July 27.—A ghastly tragedy, the sequel of another one, has been enacted in the prison here to-day. Murderer William G. Taylor, who cut the throat of a fellow convict, was placed in the electrocution chair to-day to expiate with his own life the crime he had done. He received a shock of 1,000 volts, but the contact was not sufficiently prolonged, and when it was sought to turn on the current again the dynamo would not do its work. The man lingly came back toward consciousness, to prevent which morphine and chloroform were administered while preparations were being made to get electric supply from the city's dynamo plant. After connection was made with the electric light plant, the execution was consummated.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Money on call active, ranging from 6½ to ¾ per cent and interest last loan at 6 and closing offered at 6.

The day opened at the Stock Exchange with renewed depression, and a sudden drop of 1 points in Lackawanna to 127 created no little uneasiness, as a repetition of yesterday's heavy liquidations with possible failures was feared in stock circles. General Electric, Consolidated Gas, Chicago Gas, Sugar, Canada Southern and a few others sustained losses of 1@3 per cent. Speculation soon quieted down when it was found that there was some support to the market. The strength of the London market and liberal foreign buying orders tended to restore confidence in a measure, but the bears renewed their efforts at every opportunity and the result was some most erratic movements, prices advancing sharply and breaking the next minute.

The really important movement of the day occurred after delivery hour when all stock exchange houses having gone through without trouble, the shorts made a regular scramble to cover. The street heaved a sigh of relief when it was found that there were to be no failures and was greatly encouraged by the steps taken by some of the bankers in connection with clearing house banks, who import a large amount of gold in the immediate future. The probability is that at least $3,000,000 gold will be shipped from Europe on Sunday to this side, the low rates of exchange making the operation feasible. The foreign purchases of stocks were estimated at 50,000 shares and the investment buying of small lots for home account was on a larger scale than for many years. The latter is regarded as most important, inasmuch as it brings ready money into the street. The advance in prices from the lowest was equal to 1 to 17 points, the latter in Evansville and Terre Haute. In the final trading there was reaction of ¼ to ¾. Sales 301,000.

France's Rule of Action.

PARIS, July 27.—Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador, held a conference with M. Develle, the foreign minister, this morning. This afternoon the following semi-official statement was issued: It may be taken for granted that France intends in the first place to settle the questions of treaty violation and national dignity which have been created by Siam's attitude.

France's rule of action will be not to allow any foreign interference in this matter.

An Unsuccessful Robber.

DENVER, July 27.—While the mob was hanging and brutally dragging the body of Dan Arata through the muddy streets last night, a robber entered the office of the assistant cashier of the Denver Tramway company, and at the point of a revolver demanded that he open the safe and deliver over the cash. The cashier grabbed a revolver and fired at the robber who returned the shot. Several rounds were fired, but no officer was within a quarter of a mile of the scene, the robber escaped.

Gold Imports.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Several of the banks here decided to-day to extend to the large exchange houses any aid which may be necessary to facilitate the importation of gold. Owing to the lower rates of exchange, several large houses considered it a favorable time to purchase gold paid to this end and they approached the banks to ascertain if the necessary accomodation would be extended. The banks replied that every facility would be afforded them, and on the strength of this nearly three million of gold was ordered for Saturday's shipment from the other side. Of this Lazard Freres imports $1,000,000, J. and W. Seligman $1,000,000, J. Von Hoffman $200,000.

The members of the Clearing House committee wish it stated that the Clearing House has nothing whatever to do with this arrangement for importing, it being a matter solely between the various banks and their customers.

An Unparalleled Scene in the House of Commons.

EPITHETS AND FISTICUFFS.

Mr. O'Connor Forced to Apologize—The Home Rule Bill Reported From the Committee—Closure Was Strictly Enforced.

LONDON, July 27.—On the government programme 10 o'clock this evening was the hour set for closure of the debate in committee on the Home Rule bill. The parts of the bill left over for the discussion of the last week and for the divisions this evening were the new financial clauses, the schedules and the preamble.

The galleries of the house were filled with persons expectant of an exciting scene at the close of the committee's labors. Few members were absent from the benches on the floor of the House.

The proceedings early in the evening were tame enough. John Clancy, Parnellite, moved an amendment to the effect that the imperial government should guarantee to Ireland £2,000,000 annually during the provisional period of six years. Mr. Gladstone declined to accept the amendment.

Mr. Goschen also spoke against Mr. Clancy's motion. The debate continued until just fifteen minutes before the closure was to be applied. Then Joseph Chamberlain rose to deliver the final broadside of the opposition. He was still smarting under the lash which Mr. Gladstone swung on Tuesday evening and spoke with corresponding bitterness. After a few sneerings and biting words as to the conduct of the members, he began giving his opinion of the closure as applied by the government. The members, he said, were about to witness the last scene in a disreputable farce. The debate on the financial clauses had been a mere sham. The government had stood over friend and foe alike ready to let fall the guillotine without regard for justice or constitutional rights. The Irish members as well as the Unionists were anxious to discuss at length the important financial questions presented by the new clauses but such discussion was to be cut short. The bill had been changed in its most vital features and such debate was regarded as necessary, since a majority was sure to be found perfect by the adherents of the prime minister.

Cheers from the Irish, cheers from the Unionists, and counter cheers from the Liberals interrupted Mr. Chamberlain at this point. He waited two or three minutes before the confusion abated sufficiently for him to speak without effort. He then proceeded thus: "The prime minister calls black and his adherents say it is good. The prime minister calls white and they say it is better." (Uproarious laughter.) It is always the voice of God. Never, since the time of Herod, has there been such."

Mr. Chamberlain got no further. Immediately after resuming his speech he had been warned by mutterings from the Irish benches that a storm was gathering. He could hardly have expected the suddenness with which it broke, for with his half-finished reference to Herod, there came from the Nationalists such a roar of indignation as has not been heard in the House since the days of Parnell. Mr. Chamberlain plainly was startled but he tried to talk on. His voice was inaudible to the members on the next bench. He turned toward the Nationalists, and shrill yells of execration [illegible] him in the eye. The increasing confusion threatened a renewal of the riot when Mr. Balfour and Tim Harrington, Parnellite, rose together. Mr. Balfour yielded the floor and the Irish became more tranquil. Amid laughter and cheers, Mr. Harrington said he took part in the conflict only to help the sergeant-at-arms to restore order. He said that he had seen Colonel Saunderson strike several members before Mr. Crane hit him. Thomas Condon, anti-Parnellite, confirmed this statement. The hubbub was renewed in the House. The speaker requested the members to let the subject drop as it was futile to go back to the disagreeable incidents of the disturbance.

Mr. Mellor then resumed the chair. The new clause was adopted by a vote of 312 to 291. As a clause which had not been discussed was to be put to a vote, somebody challenged Mr. Balfour to read it. In an undertone Mr. Balfour said: "No, no; do not have it read." The clause was carried by a vote of 321 to 288. The two other financial clauses were carried without division. The postponement of the fifteenth and sixteenth clauses was adopted by a vote of 316 to 283. The motion that the first schedule stand as part of the bill was carried by a vote 310 to 277. The second schedule was carried by 290 to 273 amid loud opposition cheers. The rest of the schedules were adopted without noteworthy incidents.

When the committee rose and Chairman Mellor reported to Speaker Peel the Home Rule bill, as amended in committee, cheer after cheer was given, and all hats were waved for Mr. Gladstone by the Irish Liberals and Irish, which were answered by the Unionists with counter cheers. The report stage was fixed for August 7th. Adjourned.

P. C. Helm's Death.

Mr. P. C. Helm, proprietor of the Alamo hotel, died at 2:30 yesterday morning. Mr. Helm was taken ill only last Sunday, but until Wednesday his condition was not considered serious. The immediate cause of death was peritonitis. Mr. Helm was about 45 years of age and was born at Oskaloosa, Iowa. His parents were among the early pioneers of Colorado, settling at Canon City. In this State he grew to manhood. About eleven years ago he came to this city and soon engaged in the grocery business at the corner of Huerfano and Tejon streets. He prospered in this business and acquired considerable property. Some three or four years ago he closed out this business and went to Salt Lake, but soon decided to return here. A year ago last March he took a lease of the Alamo hotel and has conducted the place successfully ever since, giving to it his personal management. Mr. Helm was a good citizen, enterprising and progressive, and was known as an upright business man. He leaves a wife and two daughters, aged 13 and 5 years.

The funeral will not occur until to-morrow, awaiting the arrival of relatives, and the hour will be announced to-morrow.

Mrs. Whiteman's Singing.

Mrs. W. J. Whiteman of Denver arrived in town yesterday, and will appear at the Summer school concert this evening. Mrs. Whiteman possesses a contralto voice of rare power and sweetness, and her tasteful singing always proves a treat to her audiences. Those who heard her at the Lehmann Quartet concerts last winter will not lose to night's opportunity of listening to her again.

AN ANXIOUS NIGHT.

Sixteen Days of a Riot Unrivalled at Denver.

TROOPS KEPT UNDER ARMS.

Thousands of Desperate Men in the Streets—Armed Guards in the Banks—United States Soldiers Asked to Furnish Protection.

DENVER, July 27.—The lynching of the Italian Arata last night has shaken the immense crowd of idle workmen at present in Denver, and what can be accomplished by violence, and there is a dread in the minds of many citizens that a riot of enormous size, having for its purpose the looting of the city, may break out at any time. The thousands of unemployed workmen already here are being augmented daily by others from throughout the State who are gradually working their way to Denver. The county and city and numerous charity organizations are doing their utmost to feed and shelter the great army of penniless people, but they are incapable of meeting the demands.

The Governor of the city have called upon the government troops at Fort Logan, of which there are 700, to be ready to protect their institutions in case of an outbreak. The banks are United States depositories and thus have a right to ask government protection. The unemployed members of the State militia and the Chaffee light artillery are under arms at the armory waiting developments.

Mayor Van Horn to-day issued the following proclamations:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
CITY OF DENVER, July 27, 1893.

All citizens of Denver who prize the good name of our city and State are earnestly requested at this time to refrain from congregating on the streets and everywhere, and speakers are requested to abstain from addressing all assemblages of laboring men and others. The State, county and city are doing everything possible to help the needy. Let us have no unnecessary excitement.

MAYOR D. VAN HORN,
Mayor.

This afternoon a large number of idle men attempted to board a train at Fortieth street but were repulsed by the train men. Every precaution possible has been taken by the different officials to prevent any trouble and they are hopeful of success.

A company of Colorado National Guard has been on duty in the People's National bank all day and to-night. It was feared that in the present excited state of the public mind the developments in the affairs of the bank might lead to an attack on that institution.

President Lawrence and his family left the city early this morning and the case against him was continued to Saturday morning.

The police have their hands full to-night. Several thousand men swarm in the lower sections of the city, though without any definite purpose. Wherever they attempt to congregate or orators attempt to address them the gathering is promptly dispersed. The national guard is on duty at the armory and any attempt at disturbance will be promptly suppressed. The Chamber of Commerce this afternoon passed resolutions demanding the removal of Chief of Police Kelleher, who has just entered upon his duties and the appointment of a man able to cope with the present situation.

This evening a large crowd of unemployed men gathered at Eighteenth and Market streets to exchange ideas on the question of food and shelter. The police broke the meeting up, but Larimer street is thronged with people, many of them being merely curiosity seekers, waiting for something unusual to occur. At 11 o'clock the crowd has not diminished but are orderly. The police are keeping them continually on the move.

At midnight the streets are deserted and everything is quiet. Colonel C. P. Brennan who led the mob that lynched the Italian murderer, Arata, last night has just been arrested. He is booked at the station under the charge of having incited a disturbance.

The real charge against him is murder in having caused the hanging. Brennan claims to be a Grand Army man, but many old soldiers here assert that he is not. He has been in the penitentiary for forgery.

The J. B. Wheeler Bank at Manitou.

In giving the liabilities of the Ute Pass Paint company yesterday it was stated that $49,871.79 were due the J. B. Wheeler banks at other places than Colorado City. From this it might possibly be inferred that the J. B. Wheeler bank at Manitou had been carrying the Paint company's account. Mr. J. B. Glasser, assignee of that bank, says that neither the Ute Pass Paint company nor the Colorado City Glass company owes the bank a dollar. Mr. Glasser says also that Mr. Wheeler is the largest creditor of the Manitou bank. The Manitou Mineral Water company has only a very small account there less than $200. The directors of the Manitou bank owe it only a comparatively small amount. The late cashier owes the bank nothing at all. The assets, aside from Mr. Wheeler's personal account, will pay 15c on the dollar.

MANITOU NOTES.

F. B. and A. P. Wolcott of Weeping Water, Neb., are at the Barker.

Thos. D. Williams and W. C. Williams of Cape Town are at the Hotel Barker.

Mr. Geo. T. Anthony a prominent grain dealer of St. Paul is at the Iron Springs.

Mrs. A. J. Sears and M. A. Sears of Boston are at the Iron Springs to spend two or three weeks.

D. L. Musselman and wife, of the Quincy business college, are registered at the Iron Springs.

S. H. Wright and family of Chicago will spend the remainder of the summer at the Iron Springs.

About thirty of the guests of the Cliff House will take an outing this afternoon to Blair Athol, returning by moonlight.

Chas. P. Bond, family and party are registered at the Barker. Mr. Bond is financial editor of the Boston Evening Telegraph.

Mrs. Krauss, wife of Mr. John Krauss, president of the Southern Commercial and Savings bank of St. Louis, is at the Barker.

The man Lightfoot who was murdered in Denver was an old acquaintance and personal friend of Jacob Thornton of this place. Mr. Thornton knew him as a quiet, peaceable old gentleman.

Mrs. M. Lipe of Texas made complaint before Justice Francisco yesterday charging Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Register of assault and battery. It seems that the plaintiff was reciting "Blow, Bugle Blow," in the parlor of the hotel the evening before for the entertainment of whoever might receive it. Mrs. Register began to thump the piano and bring forth boisterous music, also for the edification of the guests. After this nuisance was over, both retired to their apartments in the apartments of the one rather, and Mrs. Lipe alleges that then and there Mrs. Register not only threw her from the room, but also slapped her. A change of venue was taken and the case was tried before Justice Barker, who assessed Mrs. Register $1 and costs for the privileges she had exercised. In the case against Mr. Register a change of venue was taken to Colorado City.

Yesterday Marshal Elerick captured two boys who stole the diamond pin at the opening of the Hotel Colorado at Glenwood Springs. The boy, Frank Holdaway is 18 years of age and came from Cripple Creek. He was a bell boy at the Metropole, Denver, before going to Glenwood, and in his possession were found numerous articles which were stolen while he was in the employ of the Metropole. His plan was to lift goods from guests when they were packing preparatory to leaving the hotel. Among the things found in the possession are white vests and white shirts, a gold horse shoe set with twenty-one diamonds, a silver medal given to H. W. Rhodes, chief of the Ogden Fire department, a silver medal won in a swimming match, a silver pocket flask, a glass pocket flask in a leather case, two doublets, amongst and a pearl, some teaspoons marked Hotel Metropole, and a diamond collar button. Holdaway has been shadowed for two weeks by Patty Crosby at the hotel where Holdaway has been employed as bell boy. The value of the goods which he is known to have stolen is $500. He pawned the diamond at Colorado City.

SUMMER SCHOOL NOTES.

Dr. Blodgett's course ended yesterday afternoon. Miss Bates and Miss Coman gave the last lecture to-day. In the place of these most delightful courses, the programme offers Yale others for the last week of the session. Mr. Krauss has just begun a course of lectures on "The Myths of the Ancient Teutons," and President Slocum and Dr. Lyde begin courses in Greek Philosophy and Shakspeare respectively on Monday next. These courses together with the regular work in science and in the languages make the last week one of great attractiveness of the whole session. Tickets for all the exercises of this last week have been placed at the extremely low figure of $1.

The programme for the evening's concert given below, is a very varied and attractive one. This concert is given to pay the expenses of the Music course which was thrown open to the public, and seen a ticket will not admit to it. A merely nominal charge of 25 cents has been decided upon and lovers of music should turn out in force to-night.

The Summer School has arranged for another trip to the Peak by carriage at the reduced rate of $12 on Saturday. All those whose names have been given to the directors or secretary may secure tickets by applying at The Antlers livery, and it is possible that there may be room for others. The train leaves the station at the east end of Pike's Peak avenue at 9:40 and the Tejon street crossing a few moments later.

Dr. Ely will deliver a lecture to members of labor unions on Saturday evening at Armory hall. Admission free. Dr. Ely's regular Summer school course begins on Monday evening.

A New Attraction at the Casino.

Mr. Franko has arranged for two appearances at the Casino, on Sunday and Monday, of the celebrated Norwegian prima donna, Mme. Sophie Zela. She will sing an aria from Massenet's "Le Cid," and one from Gounod's "Jerusalem." Mme. Zela was for two years the prima donna at the Grand Opera in Cologne.

The regular Sunday programme will be a French one. The orchestra will play a selection from the compositions of Saint-Saens, Bizet, Chopin, Gounod, Gillet, Ambrose Thomas, Gabriel Faure and Offenbach.

On Saturday afternoon there will be fancy dances by three of Mrs. Whitbeck's pupils in addition to the regular dancing programme.

Arrested a Horse Thief.

Marshal Dana is at Durango, where he yesterday arrested a man named W. H. Bell, for whom he has been searching for sometime. Bell was arrested for horse stealing at North Platte, Neb., in February but escaped from jail. The marshal then offered $100 reward for his arrest. Bell has a half dozen aliases, under which he has committed crimes, and has been known as Howard, Dougherty, Bishop and King. It was under the name of King that he came here. To show his nerve, an incident of his adventures in Kansas is given. After breaking jail he went to a small town in the Kaw bottoms in Kansas and pretended to be a detective from the south. He took in the officers so well that they helped him search for his prisoner, and he filled the local newspapers full of taffy as to how he had become "mashed" on the Kaw bottoms and would locate there. According to the paper his great surprise was that such a glorious country was not better known to the world.

Marshal Dana soon got on to Bell or King, or whatever his name is, but could not find him. He has been following him to Leadville, Trinidad and other points. At Lake George Bell stopped for a short time and got money from a wood chopper on false pretenses. Last Monday, Mr. Dana heard of his man at Durango and went there. Yesterday he telegraphed that he had the fellow under arrest but was having trouble as he had begun habeas corpus proceedings.

ENDOWMENT POLICIES

Are issued by the PROVIDENT LIFE & TRUST CO., of Philadelphia, which are made payable at a certain specified age of the insured, or at death if occurring before that age is reached.

These policies, if discontinued after two years, are entitled to paid-up policies for a proportional amount, which paid-up policies will also participate in the dividends.

This is obviously the most desirable form of insurance. Ordinarily the head of a family is confronted with two contingencies: First, his death may be untimely, and he may leave his family with an inadequate provision. Secondly, if he should escape this calamity and should live to the commencement of old age, he might find himself with failing powers without a competence for himself and wife. An endowment policy provides against both contingencies. If death should occur the amount of the policy is paid to the family, or, if the insured should live to the maturity of the policy, the amount is paid to himself as a support for his and his wife's old age. THE LYNCHING AT DENVER.

First of all the Denver lynching is to be condemned. It was a flagrant violation of law, and the humanity of the nation warm disgrace on the civilization of the State. Every man who believes in law and order should unite in condemning the outrage. Nothing in the character of the murdered, the crime or his history could excuse. These reflections are appropriate to all occasions of this kind, and cannot be too strongly emphasized, for the alarming frequency of mob executions shows how much they are needed.

But there are in the present case certain particular aspects which should not be overlooked. The first of these unfortunately concerns the Governor of the State. That a large measure of responsibility rests upon Governor Waite cannot be denied. That an official who has sworn to execute the laws should announce his intention of preventing their enforcement is a matter which ought to bring about his removal from the office which he has disgraced; and such action on the part of the Chief Magistrate cannot fail to offer encouragement to individual or associated lawbreakers. The only excuse of apparent reason that a mob can find for its action is in the non enforcement of the law. Denver's experience is exactly in line with that of Cincinnati, New Orleans and other cities. If court law fails, lynch law will surely come. The responsibility which rests primarily upon Governor Waite is shared by all those who have contributed to make criminal law in Colorado notoriously inefficient, and the conviction of a wealthy criminal a practical impossibility. The victim of the law's delays at the present time is the people. The system of legal practice which keeps Dr. Graves in jail month after month, unpunished if guilty, unjustified if innocent, is the system which brings the mob to howl for the death of a red-handed murderer.

Another way in which responsibility attaches to the present State government is in the failure of the police to prevent this outrage. For three hours the mob ruled the city, practically without opposition. That this demonstrates the absolute inefficiency of Denver's police is self-evident. What that police would do in the case of an attack of armed or hungry and desperate men on the banks and stores, is not pleasant to contemplate. Denver's police board is composed of Populists, appointed by the Governor for partisan reasons alone, and Denver's Chief of Police is a man without any police experience whatever, appointed because he was a Populist and under such circumstances nothing else could be expected.

Finally it would be unfair to Denver if we did not point out that this lynching, which was of singularly barbarous and horrible character, occurred under exceptional circumstances. At no other time than the present would there have been so many idle men around the streets; at no other time perhaps would there have been so quick a turning of men's minds to a desperate deed. It is as unfair to judge of Denver's civilization by this occurrence as it would be to consider the recent bank failures a characteristic feature of her commercial life.

The maladministration of the laws and official incompetency determined the deed; exceptional circumstances favored its execution; the good sense of the State everywhere will deplore and condemn it. As for the punishment of the lynchers, that should be undertaken promptly and carried through without wavering or hesitation.

WESTERN COLORADO FRUIT.

One of the projects that were suggested at the recent session of the Western Slope Congress is in a fair way of being put into execution—the opening of a market for Denver for the sale of fruit grown in Mesa, Delta and Montrose counties. Many carloads of California fruit are sold in Denver every year, and the fruit of Western Colorado is equal to that of California in size and beauty, and superior to it in taste.

At the Congress mentioned, President Jeffery of the Denver and Rio Grande offered to haul a car load of Western Colorado fruit to Denver free of charge and on express time. The offer should be accepted, and other railroads should also present.

[illegible] for all the fruit the western slope can produce. Denver is in good condition and prepared to receive it. Colorado Springs will gladly extend the hand along your lines, peach, apricots, plums, grapes, apples, and both, and pay for the produce.

JERRY SIMPSON'S LATEST.

It is reported that Mr. Jerry Simpson of Medicine Lodge proposes to relieve the monotony of the proceedings of the extra session of Congress by introducing a bill for the purchase of the Bay of Fundy in North America. It is not stated whether payment is to be made in silver or treasury orders on Kansas, but that would be the way of footing a large account of nonsense.

Jerry is a long-jointed and peculiarly [illegible] and he prefers to buy Canada rather than run the chance of a difference with Great Britain when Canada is to be annexed.

One thing is sure. Jerry's plan will not go through Congress if the payment is to be made in gold. We do not imagine that Jerry's friends suppose that Jerry has any idea of paying that way, but it is possible that the form of payment is the most important point to be considered in connection with Mr. Simpson's bill. Take it in any way, it is a ridiculous bill.

The Art Club of the Mesa has its hands full in what is now a quarter for a [illegible] Cape Cod promises to have to be [illegible] something delightful. Although the project is a good one, nothing has been done hitherto to carry it into effect. The company organized [illegible] charter has already taken steps toward a survey. The road is to run from the head of Bayard's Bay across the point of the peninsula to Cape Cod Bay. The distance is between three and four miles. It is stated that [illegible] has been offered to build the road.

The Infanta Eulalia is gone, but the New York papers have given a fine Hindu flagstaff to write up, and they are making the most of it. It takes at least two columns a day to do the big uprising and the corresponding. If Kaiser Wilhelm [illegible] visit they will have to print supplements every day and perhaps extras every two hours.

Every man asked by the Chamber of Commerce to go to Chicago to the bimetallic convention, ought to go if he possibly can. If the sensible men at the [illegible] are in the majority it may do some good; if they are not it will surely do harm.

Mr. William C. Whitney can find nothing more novel to say in the present emergency than an echo of his Great Chief's policy—a gold standard and free trade. Mr. Whitney will not be Mr. Cleveland's successor.

It was a real pleasure to look at the mud in our streets last evening. It has been about seven months and a half since we had a good-sized puddle.

Famous Drooping Willows.

In the early part of the year 1815 a New Bedford whaling bark touched at St. Helena on her passage home. While visiting Napoleon's tomb the captain cut a small branch from a drooping willow growing directly above it. When he arrived in New Bedford the branch had budded into a small tree and was growing in a large cask. Captain Obed Baker of West Dennis, long since retired from active service to enjoy his immense wealth, secured a slip of the tree measuring six inches in length and about two inches in circumference. He divided the stick into three pieces and with watchful care succeeded in sprouting them. Today the tree is in front of his beautiful residence is adorned with three magnificent willows, with trunks averaging nine feet in circumference and rising fully 50 feet in the air. There are scattered about the town a number of smaller ones, offsheots from the originals.—Boston Globe.

How Kaffirs Smoke.

The Kimberley Kaffirs are extremely fond of cigars, but they smoke with the lighted end in their mouths. When this peculiarity was first mentioned to me, I supposed that my informant was cracking a joke, whereupon he took me to my amazement I saw numerous instances of the reality in the compound. The native first lighted his cigar by the ordinary method, then turning it round he deftly arranged the hot, glowing end in his mouth, and tucking away his tobacco in his cheek proceeded to inspire and expire the fumes, gradually consuming the whole of the cigar. The smoke issued from the corner of the mouth in a thin stream, and the process was warm, comfortable, delicious and far superior to the usual style. On subsequent trial I found that the knack is less difficult to acquire than might be supposed.—Million.

A Wise Precaution.

One of the wisest of a certain legislature of the great state of Ohio had before it the consideration of a question relative to the penitentiary. It was decided that the body should visit the prison. Just what legislature it was need not here be stated, but its reputation had gone before it everywhere. It happened when the lawmakers paid their visit the prisoners were all in their cells, but they knew of the distinguished persons who were coming. The great door opened to admit the gentlemen and as the last one stepped inside of the doors clanged shut a prisoner yelled so every body could hear: "Hands on your pocketbooks, boys. Here comes the legislature."—Detroit Free Press.

Toothache Easily Cured.

A European dentist is said to have had great success in curing toothache within five or six minutes and often in less time, by applying one pole of an electrostatic machine to the troublesome tooth and the other pole to the body of the patient. In 76 cases thus treated by him only three are said to have been unsatisfactory.—New York Telegram.

AGRICULTURAL.

INTERESTING EXHIBIT AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Facts Are Appearing to Take Up That Agricultural America Is the World Is Demonstrated at Chicago—Display of the Large Crops—Cotton Seed Oil.

CHICAGO, July 29.—[Special.]—In my letter I pointed out some of the features of the great agricultural display of the exposition, and promised to return to the subject. The exhibit is so vast, so full that it is interesting and it is with reluctance one leaves of the splendid palace devoted to agricultural products to visit other departments of the exposition. Among the distinguishing features of the agricultural show is the popcorn display, and you will remember that in my letter I mentioned that the exhibition was the owner of 70 acres. His profits, I have said to the sunshine of 1892, made him a pretty fortune to start with a capital of two hundred dollars. I regret to say that corn sells so cheaply well in parts of the country that it is likely to be fed to hogs more in this than any other, but even here, where corn may do cheaper feeding of fall as much as he had a right to expect, the popping of corn over the fire in two or three different buildings, and a corner of the visitors buy and eat it, attention and delight in it usually is a common one. Canada is doing its popular cheese over made. It is sold in more or more of the Agricultural building. To see the top of this monster cheese you have to climb a staircase, and then the top is almost strong enough to behold. There is hidden ingeniously put over the cheese a placard which reads:

"This Cheese Weighs 22,000 Pounds."

At first glance one sees it is good fun to notice the "22," and after the figures. Hence many visitors go no one farther to their friends there that at the World's fair they saw a cheese which weighed 22,000 pounds. Further information given by the exhibitor about his cheese is that the milk required the milk of 16,000 cows which were milked by 1,000 pretty dairy maids, though I regret to say that many days the 16,000 cows and 1,000 pretty dairy maids were thus employed. In the absence of more precise information on this point the visitor will be well to assume that the 16,000 cows were milked once, or 1,000 cows fourteen times, or 200 cows seventy times, by a correspondingly smaller number of pretty dairy maids.

Some of the advertising methods employed here make very interesting exhibits of themselves. One firm builds a model of the great flouring mills in Minneapolis. Another erects walls of flour a mediæval castle. A third shows us that always interesting process, weaving silk from the cocoon to the finished handkerchief which may be bought on the spot with your name embroidered in the corner. An old fashioned log house, with its well sweep, its oaken bucket, its spring and spring house for the milk, attracts much attention. Beside it English plum pudding is shown in a large pyramid of which the top cone weighs four and a half pounds and the bottom one 52 pounds, the weight of the whole pudding being upward of a thousand pounds.

It is in agricultural exhibits America completely outstrips the remainder of the world, and at this section one of the most enterprising and skillful of advertisers have been at work. Their amazing displays of machines and implements are in motion. They have costly pavilions over them, luxurious rugs on the floor, electric lights in profusion, statues and figures, expensive printing matter, which is gobbled up by the ton. Nothing could be more effective than the advertising device of a reaper and mower manufacturer. He has employed artists and model makers to point and set up a perfect model of his immense factory, with the surrounding scenery. Where railways run along on two sides of the works there are miniature railroads with trains of passenger and freight cars constantly passing to and fro. On the other side, where the river is, there tug-boats, steamers, sailing vessels move up and down. The whole is cleverly designed and executed and attracts much attention.

The only things in the machinery exhibit which struck me as being positively new were a corn planter which uses wire ropes stretched from one side of the field to the other to enable the driver to mark straight lines, and projectors on the wires automatically to drop the corn in hills of absolute uniformity; and a potato harvesting machine which it is claimed will dig the potatoes without cutting them, put them in sacks, and plow the land ready for any crop which it may be desired to follow, all by going once over the ground.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

(Written for THE GAZETTE.)

AN ATMOSPHERE OF CARBONIC ACID.—As the primitive rocks contain oxidizable substances, the idea has been advanced that the earth's atmosphere at the time life began contained no free oxygen, but was formed exclusively of carbonic acid and nitrogen. Dr. T. L. Phipson has sought to test the possibility of this theory by growing modern plants in carbonic acid. He finds that the various plants experimented upon could exist for days and even weeks in an atmosphere of pure carbonic acid, but they did not thrive. In an atmosphere containing 100 times as much carbonic acid as the natural air, however, plants flourished remarkably well during the entire month or six weeks of the experiments. He therefore regards it as highly probable, as Keene held, that in earlier geological times such plants which could live in an atmosphere largely composed of carbonic acid, and that the quantity of this gas in the air has greatly diminished through withdrawal of the carbon in the vast deposits of peat, lignite and coal found in the earth's strata. Dr. Phipson has extended his experiments to an atmosphere of hydrogen. Plants placed in this were slightly bleached but perfectly healthy at the end of a month, when it was found that 80 per cent. of the atmosphere had been absorbed and that what remained was not hydrogen. This unexpected result is attributed to burning of the hydrogen by nascent oxygen emitted by the leaves.

A MIGHTY BARRIER TO CIVILIZATION.—Malaria is responsible for half the deaths of all mankind, according to Dr. H. M. Clark. From his experience in India he learns that malaria is not confined to rich, low-lying soils, but is found even in sandy deserts. The negroes of the grain coast of Western Africa and the Taurus of Northern India are the only races proof against it. Both modern medicine and sanitation are powerless in dealing with it. Suggested preventives are the flooding of swamp lands, and the planting trees that will retain water and shade the soil, such as the plantain and banana but not the eucalyptus.

IZAL.—The new product called "Izal," which an English chemist has obtained from coal tar, is claimed to have very important merits as a disinfectant. Not the least advantage is that it is insoluble in, but readily distributed by water, its finely divided particles remaining permanently suspended and yielding a beautiful milk-white emulsion. It has a high boiling point, which insures remarkable persistency of disinfectant action. It has a greater antiseptic power than carbolic acid, but unlike all the stronger antiseptics hitherto used, is absolutely without poisonous effect upon the human body, whether taken internally or applied externally. Diluted to a strength of only 1 in 100 it has destroyed in five minutes the vitality of the germs of cholera, diphtheria, typhoid fever, pneumonia and glanders, as well as of those which cause putrefaction and the formation of abscesses. Under the same conditions carbolic acid had no effect.

HORSE STORY.—A striking example of animal sagacity is reported from Sheffield, Eng. Two horses were grazing in an open lot when a pony in a cart, left alone near them for a time, suddenly galloped off. The horses immediately started at full speed after the runaway and, on his passing ahead, one on each side, when they brought the pony to a stop by coming together in advance of him. In this position they stood until the pony's driver came up when the horses quietly trotted back to their grass.

VIEWS! VIEWS!

The W. E. Hook View Co.'s views are the best made. When buying views compare them with any other make. That is all we ask. You do the rest.

The best 5x8 views published 60c per dozen, 5c each straight, one or a hundred. No shop-worn, soiled views—all clean, bright and beautiful. This cut in price will be continued until the view makers arrange to restore the price of 5x8 views to the old price, viz: $1.50 per dozen. We will sell views in every city and town in the state, too, at 60c a dozen. We did not commence cutting the price on views, but propose now to take a hand in the business and put the price where it won't pay a cent to make them. We are ready at any time to arrange with the other view makers to return to the $1.50 rate; but until such times we are in the swim with the best views on earth at 60c per dozen. You can have 10,000 clean, bright views to select from. Our Colored Photographs in every size and style are superior to all others and 33 per cent less in price. The most important view dealers in this locality handle our work: The Consolidated Stationery Co., Q. J. Wellington, at College Book Store; Raymond Reed, Postoffice Book Store; Kirschner's Fur Store, Pike's Peak avenue; A. M. Swain, Pike's Peak avenue; G. Farrington, Cheyenne Canon; E. L. Rice, Garden of the Gods; Chas. W. Grant, Manitou; or at headquarters, 509 North Tejon, Colorado Springs. We have the finest studio in the city, and will make you the best cabinet portraits at $1.50 per dozen, and will not ask you for money until you are satisfied. Yesterday noon a summons was served upon The Gazette Printing company to answer an action brought by Willard D. Perkins for services alleged to have been rendered during the erection of the Gazette building. There was a difference of opinion between the late Mr. Steele, then manager of The Gazette Printing Co., and Mr. Perkins, as to the amount due the latter for his services as architect. It is a difference that will be settled by the courts. It is perhaps needless to say that the pendency of the suit will not affect in the slightest degree either THE GAZETTE itself, or the business of The Gazette Printing company under its present management.
